

Management Fundamentals

As a manager, your success is measured not simply by your individual contribution, but by how well you get the work done with and through others. This workshop provides the skills every manager must have in order to achieve team synergy and success.

By focusing on team building and Management skills throughout the life cycle of the employee from interviewing to managing performance of individuals and teams, this course provides new or experienced supervisors with the tools and skills for building personal confidence in their leadership role in the workplace. Resulting in the enhanced productivity of their teams

Leadership Development

True Leadership comes from managing 3 different aspects; Leading Yourself, Leading the Team and Leading the Business.

If you focus on one area, but not another, there will be imbalance.

In the diagram on the right you see various examples of topics that fall under the listed categories. This cycle and the training topics that fall under it can be dynamic and changing based on the needs of the organization.
