

Maximizing Team and Individual Performance – A Half Day session for Leaders

Workshop Overview

As a manager, your success is measured not simply by your individual contribution, but by how well you get the work done with and through others. This workshop provides the skills every manager must have in order to achieve team synergy and success.

The process of maximizing team and individual performance is both dynamic and interactive. It requires creativity and flexibility in order to be successful and bring the best out of everyone. It is a process in which team members develop and improve working relationships and team functions.

Teambuilding efforts vary and is a process that allows managers to understand the nature of group dynamics in regards to effective teamwork and allows individuals to develop ways to increase team efficiency.

By focusing on team building and leadership roles throughout the Skill/Will Matrix, this course provides new or experienced supervisors with a diagnostic tool and skills for building personal confidence in their leadership role in the workplace. Resulting in the enhanced productivity of their teams.

Participants will learn:

Leading Teams

- Stages of teams
- Team Development
- Providing the right environment for your team

Leading Individuals

- Examining Employee Skill and Will
- Delegation and Empowerment
- Giving feedback

Presented by: Angela Walterscheid

Angela Walterscheid is dedicated to helping companies develop their human resources. With over 17 years of corporate and consulting experience, Angela's focus is on design, development, and facilitation of custom learning experiences in management, leadership, customer service, time management, team development and many areas of professional development that result in improved business unit and individual performance.

Angela Walterscheid
972.741.6070
angela@walterscheid.us